ABOUT GCFI

The Gulf and Caribbean Fisheries Institute (GCFI) was founded in 1947 to promote the exchange of information on the use and management of marine resources in the Gulf and Caribbean Region. From its beginning, GCFI has endeavored to involve scientific, governmental, and resource-use sectors in providing a broad perspective on relevant fisheries issues. The GCFI membership comprises over 25 nations and territories representing university faculty and students, governmental agencies, policy-makers, private sector, fishers, non-governmental organizations, and other stakeholders.

THE HOST

The meeting is being hosted by the Corporation for the Sustainable Development of the Archipelago of San Andrés, Providencia and Santa Catalina (CORALINA). Their mission is to manage and protect the archipelago and ensure sustainable resource use and management, protection of flora and fauna, restoration and scientific research.

THE VENUE

The meeting venue will be the Convention Centre at the Decameron Isleño Hotel in San Andrés Island. The venue is located only a few steps from the airport and opposite the most beautiful beach in San Andrés – Spratt Bight.

THE MEETING

This annual meeting represents a platform for information exchange among various groups. There will be symposia, forums and workshops on topical issues to facilitate translation of knowledge into effective actions to inform the conservation, management, and restoration of fisheries and aquatic resources within the region.
